C. G. BURGOWNE IN THE ROLE OF HOST

At a Grand Banquet Given by That Gentleman to the Members of the F. E. C. A. A. at Club House.

The Florida East Coast Automobile Association held its regular annual meeting for the election of officers at the club house on the beach Tuesday evening, and the occasion was one that will long be remembered in the history of the club by the fortunate participants in the happy and joyous event.

The meeting was one of the largest gatherings ever held in the portals of that popular and inviting club house. In the call for the meeting was an announcement of a banquet to be served after the election, and requesting each member to designate on a blank enclosed whether or not he would attend. Before the responses had commenced to be sent in Daytona's clever and big-hearted citizen, C. G. Burgoyne conceived the happy idea of making the entire club his guests for the occasion—an inspiration which he immediately put into execution by issuing invitations to sixty-six members to join him at the banquet. Sixty-four out of the sixty-six accepted the generous invitation and were present at the banquet.

The tables were beautifully arranged, trimmed with green sprigs and presenting a very pleasing appearance. At about 8 o'clock President Paine called the assembled host to their seats at the table and opened the meeting for the regular business which was proceeded with in the usual order, reports of the secretary and treasurer being read showing the condition of the club's treasury and other matters of concern to the body. The election of officers then took place, resulting in the election of the following officers by acclamation: President—Major A. B. Foster, of Cleveland, Ohio.

First Vice-President—George E. Sebring, of Sebring, Ohio.

Second Vice-President—S. H. Gove, of Daytona.

Secretary—T. E. Fitzgerald, of Daytona.

Treasurer—Fred N. Conrad, of Daytona.

Board of Directors—Asa Paine, Minneapolis, Minn.; J. H. Allen, Daytona; N. A. Lewis, Fargo, N. D.; J. B. Parkinson, Daytona; E. L. Potter, Seabreeze; George H. Clark, Daytona.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring president, Asa Paine, for his untiring energy and efficient service as president of the association for the past two years, after which the meeting adjourned.

Without leaving their seats those present were then invited by Mr. Burgoyne to partake of the tempting viands that had been prepared in bounteous quantities under the skillful supervision of Steward Herman Dohm. The banquet, which was a very elaborate and elegant affair, was served in courses that were plentifully interlarded with exhilarating wines and sparkling champagne.

Between the courses Mr. Burgoyne, the genial host, acted as toastmaster in that usually happy and felicitous manner that crowns him the prince of entertainers, which kept his guests at the zenith of enjoyment and good nature throughout the evening.

Happy and eloquent responses were made by Governor Harding, of Ohio; John Anderson, of the Hotel Ormond; Major Foster, the new president; Mayor Greene, Hon. John B. Parkinson, Dr. Bennett, Commodore Allen, Mr. Kling, Mr. Blymeyer, Mr. Christian, of Ohio; Senator Morgan, of New York, and others.

The responses were all unusually brilliant and timely, but those made by Governor Harding, Mr. Christian, John Anderson and Major Parkinson were especially captivating to their auditors.

The meeting throughout was a most harmonious one and its results will be far-reaching in its future benefits to the club. Every one present was in accord, not only with the retiring officers, but the newly-elected ones, and promised their loyal support to the club.

A vote of thanks were tendered Mr. Burgoyne for the magnificent and elegant collation tendered the members, and after a few moments of felicitation the members dispersed and wended their way to their respective homes, there to dream of the generous hospitality and glowing geniality of their host of the evening.

Died at Whitehall, New York.

At a late hour Wednesday evening, Mrs. Charlotte M. Stevens received a telegram announcing the death of her step son, Roy, who was attending the high school at Whitehall. About two weeks ago he was stricken with typhoid fever and passed away at five o'clock on the afternoon of March 13. Roy spent several seasons in Daytona and made many friends among his teachers and school mates.

Launching of the Nedaleine.

The launch Nedaleine, mention of which was made in the Gazette-News during her construction at McDonald's boat yard, was successfully launched Wednesday afternoon in the presence of a number of ladies and gentlemen invited to witness the event.

A bountiful luncheon, with an abundance of liquid refreshments, had been provided for the occasion by the owner of the Nedaleine, E. D. W. Rose, and was served in the spacious boat house. Mr. Rose himself taking extra care to see that all his guests were bountifully supplied with all the good things with which the tables were loaded.

The launching took place immediately following the luncheon, and everything went as smoothly as the most exciting could desire. Mr. Rose and a party of friends boarded the launch, his little daughter, Nedaleine, in whose honor the launch was named, being stationed in the bow with a bottle of Florida wine to christen the new craft as she took her first dip into the waters of the beautiful Halifax, a feat which was too formidable for the youthful actor owing to the stubbornness of the bottle, which was quickly snatched by one of maturer years and demolished ere it was too late.

The Nedaleine is 27 feet in length, 7 1/2 feet beam, and is fitted with a 7-horse power Fay & Bowen engine. She will draw about 20 inches, and appears to be up to all of Mr. Rose's expectations, and he is very justly proud of her. She is also quite roomy for a boat of her dimensions and will make a very comfortable pleasure boat.

It Is Justice Titus Now.

Last Monday Henry T. Titus received notice of his appointment as justice of the peace of the Eighth district of Volusia county, to fill the unexpired term made vacant by the death of Charles R. Cox.

Many Bicycle Thefts.

A mania for stealing bicycles certainly prevails in and about Daytona. Within the past few months over twenty bicycles have been stolen in this city. Last Monday Deputy Sheriff E. L. Smith went to Ormond and located five of the missing wheels, but was not successful in landing any of the culprits who stole them. He had previously located several others, so that at the present time only three or four of the twenty are missing.

The Oldest Elk.

J. W. Dietrich, of Carthage, Mo., who was registered this week at the City Hotel, is said to be the oldest member of the order of Elks in the country. Mr. Dietrich is eighty-six years of age but is well preserved and a very interesting conversationalist, having a large fund of anecdotes and stories at his command. He served as a surgeon during the Civil War. Mr. Dietrich has been making a tour of the East Coast and departed Wednesday for points farther north on his homeward way.

Ancient City to Celebrate.

On April 2, 3 and 4 St. Augustine will dress up in holiday attire and celebrate in a befitting manner the first landing of the intrepid and adventurous Ponce de Leon on Florida soil. The Ancient City has spared neither expense nor labor in preparing to make the celebration of this historical event the grandest affair in Florida's history, and when the denizens of our venerable neighboring city undertake a project of this character the outside world can rely on its being an overshadowing success.

Antonio Entenza, a traveling representative of the celebration, was in Daytona Thursday distributing literature relating to the occasion.

Visiting Chiefs.

At the regular meeting Wednesday night of Osceola Tribe, No. 21, Improved Order of Red Men, Great Tocaok of the United States T. Smith, Great Sachem B. M. Wade and Great Chief of Records J. L. Rankin, of Florida, were present and assisted in working the adoption degree upon two pale faces.

After the degree work the tribe adjourned to Mac's cafe, where they enjoyed cream and cake in pale face style. Great Tocaok Smith is of Frankfort, Ind., but is sojourning in Port Orange for the winter; Great Sachem Wade is a citizen of Punta Gorda, and Great Chief of Records Rankin resides in Palatka.

The visiting chiefs were met at the depot by a committee of Red Men and given a carriage drive about the city on their arrival Wednesday, and after doing the town some more on Thursday departed yesterday for Jacksonville to meet with the camp of Red Men in that city.

The Auction Sale.

The FitzSimmons Auction Company held its auction sale of property in Kingston last Tuesday. All the advertised features of the sale were carried out save the wedding, and this was omitted owing to an absence of candidates for matrimony. Quite a crowd assembled, but the bidding was maintained for causes unknown. Auctioneer Hill facetiously but quite aptly remarked to the crowd that "You may think yourselves speculators, but to me you appear more like spectators." The DeLand band enlivened the occasion with excellent music, coming over by back in the forenoon and returning in the afternoon, Mr. Hill accompanying them on their return. On Wednesday Mr. FitzSimmons returned to DeLand, where the company is arranging to hold another sale.

Fred Marriott Recovered.

Fred Marriott, the intrepid driver of the ill-fated Stanley steamer that came to grief during the January race meet, had so far recovered from his injuries, as to leave for his home in Boston last week.

The accident that nearly cost Marriott his life has in nowise discouraged him and he stated before leaving the Hotel Ormond that he would go back to racing as soon as possible. In speaking of the accident Marriott stated the following:

"When the accident occurred, I am confident that I had finished a mile in 24 seconds, against my last year's record of 28 1/5. I had but 1,300 pounds of pressure on the boiler, the greatest on record, and I realized the tide was cutting down the beach, and it was my last chance—for a year at least."

"The 'bug' had jumped one gully and came down straight. On the second gully the wind got under the racer, as it were an aeroplane, and turned it around before the vehicle struck the ground, although it weighed nearly 2,300 pounds. I recall a terrible blow on my head and salt spray striking my face. After that it was days before I realized the smash, and told the doctors repeatedly to look out for the 'bug,' which no one had ever raced but myself. Racing has no terrors for me. I can make 25 seconds now with less trepidation than I did 30 a year ago."

Clipping Expenses

THE National Cigar Stands have taken cigars out of the class of expensive luxuries. They save smokers nearly one-half their cigar money, and give them better-made, better-kept and better-quality cigars besides.

Tobacco itself is not immensely expensive. The great cost of cigars has always been in the wasteful way in which they were sold. No other merchandise of such common use passed through so many hands and was loaded with so many profits between producer and consumer.

The National plan reduces cost, not by reducing quality, but by cutting off all the "lost motion" in handling and all unnecessary profits. National Cigar Stands' cigars come to you straight from the producer.

Just to see what this means in getting quality-for-price, try the
